Town House, Barinas, Murcia

55,000€

We are delighted to bring to the market this lovely little town house in the typically Spanish village of Barinas. The downstairs of the property is about 85% complete, consisting of two double bedrooms, a lovely kitchen area, lounge with log burner, a gorgeous bathroom, utility, and a small private patio. Upstairs has been untouched but is screaming out to be a master bedroom with possible ensuite and also has a very private roof terrace, perfect for those who don't want tan lines. The work that has been done is to a high standard with very high quality materials and just needs a new owner to come in and do the final few jobs and put their mark on it to make this a really lovely 3-bed home. There are also a good amount of high quality materials in the property to help towards the final works; also all the plumbing and electrics are new. Barinas itself is a lovely Spanish village with a population under 800 and a great community spirit where you can sit and have a drink with someone that could just as easily be the mayor or a local farmer or both, with several bars, restaurants, a butcher, a grocery store, butchers, and much much more, all within walking distance from the property. If you are looki...
